Preferences and instructions

This section is optional

You can tell your attorneys how you'd prefer them to make decisions, or give them specific instructions which they must follow when making decisions.

Most people leave this page blank – you can just talk to your attorneys so they understand how you want them to make decisions for you.

For help with this section, see the Guide, part A7.

Preferences

Your attorneys don't have to follow your preferences but they should keep them in mind. For examples of preferences, see the Guide, part A7.

Preferences – use words like 'prefer' and 'would like'

I need more space – use Continuation sheet 2.

Instructions

Your attorneys will have to follow your instructions exactly. For examples of instructions, see the Guide, part A7.

If you want to give instructions, you may want to take legal advice.

Be careful – if you give instructions that are not legally correct they would have to be removed before your LPA could be registered.

Instructions – use words like 'must' and 'have to'

I need more space – use Continuation sheet 2.
